

Help the movie team choose tonight's movie and future movies.

Please take a ballot and vote for one movie (and turn it back in by the time mentioned):

Gladiator

(2000)

Maximus Decimus Meridius is a Roman general who fights loyally for the emperor Marcus Aurelius, but then stuff happens, in this epic historical drama. It was nominated for 12 Oscars, including for best script, Ridley Scott for best director, and Joaquin Phoenix for best supporting actor, and it won five, including for best picture and Russell Crowe for best actor.

The Hours

(2002)

In this drama, the lives of three women of different generations are interconnected by Virginia Woolf's novel Mrs Dalloway. It was nominated for nine Oscars, including for best picture, best director, best script, best editing, Julianne Moore for best supporting actress, and Ed Harris for best supporting actor, and it won one: Nicole Kidman for best actress.

Amelia

(2009)

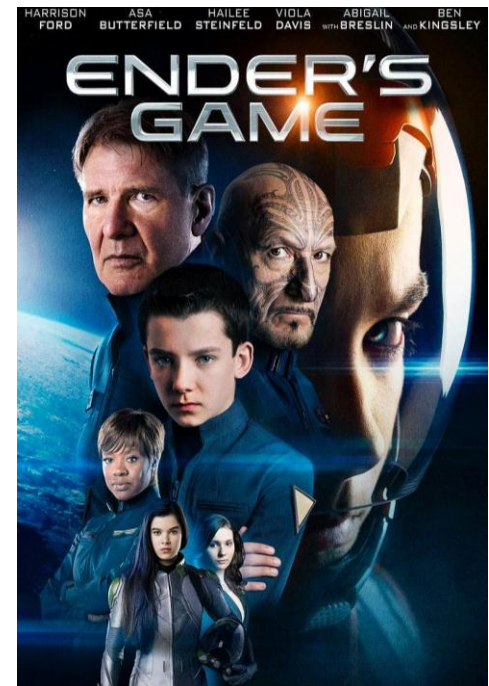

This biographical picture looks at the life of legendary pilot Amelia Earhart.

Ender's Game

(2013)

A kid is sent to an academy in outer space to prepare for a future alien invasion, in this science fiction action movie.

Even if the movie you vote for isn't selected tonight, movies that get a lot of votes will be given high consideration for being offered at future Safe Ground events.

If there's any movie or genre of movies that you'd like the movie team to try getting, let us know.

(If you'd like to be part of the movie team and help to get movies to present at Safe Ground events, just tell Dave.)
